What are Language Cafés?

- Informal language classes taught by students for students
- Gives students an opportunity to
 - a) learn a language they are interested in in a relaxed and friendly environment
 - b) get experience in teaching a language
- You can teach your own Language Café and/or be a participant of another Café (= you can sign up to all the Cafés you want!)
- Language Café leader decides
 - the language they want to teach
 - if the Café is online or on campus
 - if the Language Café offers ECTS credits (only for UEF students)
 - If teacher chooses to get 2 ECTS credits themselves, participants have the opportunity to get 1 ECTS credit
 - NOTE! If the teacher does not want ECTS credits, there is no possibility for a participant to get them either
- You can attend the Language Cafés even if you don't want to earn ECTS credits – so just for fun!

How do the Cafés work?

- Normally Cafés have meetings once a week
 - Time and day decided by each individual Language Café
- First meeting = planning meeting
- Themes of the Café's lessons are decided together with the participants and the leader
- Content is created by the leader based on participants' wishes. NB! There is no ready-made materials for teachers
- ISYY offers 25 €/ leader so that leaders can organise e.g. a baking lesson (only for the Cafés that offer ECTS credits)
